something Will Drop, Postmaster Willcox Intimates, Unless Efficient Service Is Provided—Leaders of the Striking Drivers Confer With Him

Preparations have been made by the officials of the Post Office Department to terminate the contract for the delivery of the mails at midnight to-night unless the Cas contractor gives satisfactory proof that he will provide efficient service. Several conferences were held yesterday between Postmaster Willcox, Arthur P. Masten. the special agent of the Railway Mail Service, sent here from Washington, and other officials. They kept in touch over the long distance telephone with Acting Post-Gua master-General Hitchcock. Postmaster Jam Willoox said that he would give out a state- Kit ment this morning and added:

*Something very important is going to happen. I would like to say what our plans are but I cannot tell them now for reasons which will be apparent when I feel justified in divulging them."

Mr. Willcox said the contract itself was a very mixed up affair. While C. H. Walcott was the nominal contractor and gave the bond the New York Mail Company was bond the New York Mail Company was running, or trying to run, the mail wagons. Late vesterday afternoon Edwin Gould, first vice-president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters; Secretary Ashton of its Greater New York executive heard and Business Agent Herman of the Mail Drivers' Union called on Postmaster Willcox and had a brief conference with him. Before they went in Gould said to a SEN reporter:

Suv reporter:
"The strike will continue until St. Patrick's day if necessary unless the demands are granted." He was asked what the union could do if the Government took charge.
"It would be a victory for us, but we are not aiming at getting the contract away from Mr. Walcott. We want fair wages from Mr. Walcott. We want fair wages and want the contractor to keep his promise to raise our wages."

At the conference the labor men told Mr. Willox that the service could be improved at once if the strikers were reins'ated. Mr. Willox would say nothing after the conference, which lasted only a few minutes.
